DISTRICT PROGRAMS

Citizen's Advisory Board - In place since 1988, with oversight of a Victim Impact Panel, this group of interested citizens has assisted the local office in a variety of ways, including sponsorship of local training, purchase of materials for the district library, and financial assistance for district social and training functions.

Drug Court Program - Drug Courts currently function in Pettis and Saline County, with planning underway to create a Drug Court program in Cooper County.

Offenders Offering Alternatives (OOA) - District 29 staff have a long-standing affiliation with this program, with staff serving on the Board of Directors. Led by inmates housed at Missouri State Penitentiary, Chillicothe Correctional Center, and other institutions, this program is designed to assist offenders under supervision in making more productive decisions.

Victim Impact Panel - On a bi-monthly basis, officers refer offenders to this program, designed to give the offender an opportunity to pause and consider the impact of crime in general, and their specific crime in particular, on the respective victim. Crime victims present their experiences to the group, with the intent of assisting the offender in understanding how their actions effect others.

District 29 has an active volunteer/intern program, drawing interns from State Fair Community College, Central Missouri State University and Missouri Valley College.

COMMUNITY RESOURCES

In District 29, we believe that our greatest resources are the staff who serve as representatives of this office, and the people of the counties we serve. Contained therein is the single most valuable resource that will enhance public safety by assisting offenders in making positive changes in their lives.

For assessment and treatment of substance abuse problems with the offenders we supervise, we rely heavily on assistance from Pathways Community Healthcare, Inc., in Pettis and Saline County, and rely primarily on Family Counseling Center for similar services in Cooper County.

The Missouri Career Centers in Sedalia, Marshall and Boonville serve our offenders with job readiness, workforce development and other employment-related programs.

On-going community partnerships with local law enforcement agencies are maintained, to optimize community supervision of offenders and public safety.
